Greetings from AIFUCTO

We are pleased to announce that XXXIII Statutory Conference of AIFUCTO is being organised at Kanpur on 19, 20 & 21 January 2024. We extend our cordial invitation to all the delegates and teachers from all Affiliated Teachers Organisations for this conference.

Theme of National Seminar

Status of Higher Education in India after Introduction of NEP-2020 and Role of Teachers' Movement

AIFUCTO has decided to organise a National Seminar on the theme "Status of Higher Education in India after the Introduction of NEP-2020 and Role of Teachers' Movement", to be held at Kanpur.

The Central Government implemented National Education Policy in haste ignoring the democratic voices of the nation. During implementation the National Education Policy 2020, many states had serious reservations on the implementation and held divergent opinion. Higher Education after NEP-2020, has become more centralized, corporatised, commercialised and communalised. The structural patterns, curriculum framework, methods of teaching, and above all the funding patterns have seen a paradigm shift. The governance as well as the Autonomy of the institutions has raised many eyebrows. The philosophy of National Education Policy also contradicts the cherished value of Indian Constitution. There has been a great threat to the inclusive character of education. There is an urgent necessity to examine the implications of NEP and role of Teacher's organisations.

Papers are invited on the Theme and Sub themes latest by 06th January 2024.

Sub-Themes

1. Autonomy and Higher Education Under NEP-2020
2. Accessibility and More Inclusion
3. Curriculum Frame Work
4. Digitalisation of Higher Education
5. Funding Patterns
6. Constitutional Ideas and NEP-2020
7. Scientific Temper and NEP-2020
8. Role of Teachers' Organisations and NEP-2020

(International Cricketer), Ms. Veena Sahasrabuddhe (Classical Vocalist) etc. Several colleges besides being alma mater of prominent people have also been centurions in imparting education, Christ Church College (since 1866), DAV College (since 1919) and VSSD College (since 1921).

About Kanpur City

Kanpur has distinction of being city of huge historic, cultural & industrial diversity. On one hand it has religious fervor (site of birth of Luv & Kush) of Ramayan era and on the other hand it is the land of freedom struggle of 1857 revolt where Nana Sahib and his childhood friend and close associate Tatya Tope challenged the might of British Raj at the banks of Ganges (Bithoor). Kanpur was once known as "Manchester of East" for its fine quality of textile, leather, plastics and chemical industries. It is one of the important economic and industrial centers of India. Situated along the bank of Holy Ganges it reminds of eternity on one side and Ordinance Factories on the other end are custodian of national territorial integrity.

As seat of learning, Kanpur has several institutions of higher learning viz. Indian Institute of Technology, National Sugar Institute, Indian Institute of Pulses Research etc. Besides these, there are three state universities (Chhatrapati Shahu Ji Maharaj University, Harcourt Butler Technical University, Chandra Shekhar Azad Agricultural & Technical University) and one private university (Rama University) and a very renowned medical institution Ganesh Shankar Vidyarthi Memorial Medical College named after the great freedom fighter and activist.

Kanpur has also been the work place of several personalities of eminence like Padma Shree Gopal Das Neeraj (Poet), Padma Shree Prof. S.S. Katiyar (Educationist, Scientist & Former Vice Chancellor, C.S.J.M. University) & Padma Shree Prof. H.C. Sharma (Educationist).

Kanpur as a city of knowledge, culture, tradition, business and much more has welcomed and embraced all in it.
